General Orders, No. 6. Members of the Executive Committeee of the Council of Administration met in Louisville, Ky., Dec. 18, 1894, continuing their session through the 19th and 20th.

All of the details for the 29th National Encampment were completed, and in a thoroughly satisfactory manner to the committee. The dates arranged were Sept. 11, 12 and 13, 1895, grand parade taking place on the first day and the business sessions of the Encampment the

The committee met with the various citizens' committees and contracts were drawn and presented to the proper local committee for the governing of hotels and boarding-houses; also, contracts with railroad companies, to which the local committee undertook to obtain the signatures of the interested parties, and there is no doubt but what all will be faithfully adhered to as agreed upon.

Further details of arrangements for the 29th National Eucampment will be issued as they

FIGHT FOR THE FLAG.

The Indiana Flag Bill Goes Down in the House, but will Come Up Again in the Senate-Suffering Nebraska-Installations and Other Corps Doings.

FLAG LEGISLATION. The bill introduced in the Indiana Legislature to place a flag on every schoolhouse, and providing for the special observance of National holidays and Memorial Day, was reported adversely by the Committee on Military Affairs, although there are seven old soldiers on the committee.

The adverse report was on the grounds of economy, as it was held it would take too much money from the Treasury to put a flag over every school-building.

There was a rattling debate in the House, and a good deal of wordy talk was indulged in Mich.; March 27, 28, Muncie, Ind.; April 1, 2, to show how much more patriotic it would be for school children to chip in and buy their Ala.; April 5, 6, Atlanta, Ga.; April 8, 9, Athens, own flags, than for the authorities to provide Nothing was said, however, about neglected

Now that the bill has been defeated in the Senate we are assured that it will be taken up in the Senate and passed. In any event, the agitation is on, and, sooner or later, the flag will go up. If one set of legislators will not do it, another will. The people are in no temper to be fooled with. One argument was that many of the schools had flags already, and that others would get them in time. This is, doubtless, true of patriotic communities; but there are many that only an official decree would ever reach. Better buy flags than spend money on militia. PLEA FOR HIGHER EDUCATION. Louise Barnum Robbins, President of the Adrian College Alumni Association, delivered subscribed in the presence of R. B. Peirce, Pro-August swelled receipts, and in November they received $250 as their share of a United Charity Concert and Ball. They have found that to be a member of the W.R.C. means work for the poor, sick, and destitute, and that it is more blessed to give than to receive.

Washington Hall was beautifully decorated by Post and Corps for the joint installation of Lincoln Post and Corps. By courtesy the Corps held its exercises first, Past National President Elizabeth D'Arcy Kinne officiating; Hannah M. Dean, President.

Lincoln Corps, through Past President Rob inson, presented the Post with a silk flag, the stars embroidered in white silk on the blue field and the name of the Post in yellow silk on the white stripes, while the name of Lincoln Corps and the date of presentation was inscribed on a silver shield on the staff. Commander Steele, in accepting the flag complimented Lincoln Corps upon its record of good work and dwelt upon the value of the Woman's Relief Corps to the Grand Army. Comrade Roberts, a colored soldier, who bore the flag to the platform, was appointed colorbearer and the flag recommitted to his care. Lyon Post and Corps and Barber Camp, Sons of Veterans, Oakland, held a joint installation, Department President Irene Gibson acting for and the program fine. Upon being inducted into office, President Eliza Shepherd presented the Department President with a bouquet of La France roses gold badge. Lyon Corps did a large amount of relief work last year. At the joint installation of Appomattox Corps, 5, Department Instituting and Installing Officer Getrude Smyth installed the Corps officers. A history of the year's work of the ton, O.; in fact, Dick Lambert Corps was the National W.R.C., by Commander W. R.

DEPARTMENT OF MISSOURI. Hollen E. Day, Chairman Missouri Relief Corps Home Board, thinks the signs of the times are encouraging. "She says "Grand Army men have never seemed to be as willing as they should to acknowledge the efficiency. the beauty, the utility of woman's work in the W.R.C., but they are gradually coming to a realizing sense of the good works which abound. and where we counted our friends by hundreds we now number them by thousands." Accounts of joint installations from all parts of the State are encouraging, the programs full of jollity and good feeling. As the Installing Officer of Gen. Lyon Corps, 48, St. Louis, President Day enjoyed the presence of Comrade Redington, of the Acme Haversack. THE RED CROSS SOCIETY. The American National Red Cross Society is issuing a souvenir locket, beginning with an historic review by Laura M. Doolittle, reprinted from the Literature of Philanthropy series, published by Harper Brothers. A portrait of the President, Clara Barton, forms the frontispiece, and an address closes the booklet, delivered by Mrs. Barton before the International Council of Women, held in Washington in 1888, outlining the work of the Red Cross throughout the world in war, famine, fever, and floods.

ALL ALONG THE LINE. Past National President Sarah C. Mink attended the meeting of the Relief Corps Home Board in New York, and from there installed the officers of Pen Yan Relief Corps. From there she went to Seneca Falls, Clifton Springs, and Syracuse, installing the officers of the latter place. She will attend the National Council of Women at Washington and appear on the program on patriotic teaching.

"Under the Guns," by Annie Wittenmyer, with introduction by Mrs. Gen. Grant, is now ready for issue. Send $1.50 to E. B. Stillings & Co., Boston, who have the exclusive sale of the Retiring President Fanny B. Matthews was presented a handsome gold badge by the Corps, and Treasurer Bailey, installed for the sixth time, received a set of silver teaspoons, sugarspoon and butter-knife. Although Lincoln Corps has spent hundreds of dollars for relief the past year it has over $1,000 in the treasury.

The Evergreen Home is flourishing; donations from Post and Corps frequent during the holi-President Henrietta Cook, of the Home Board, recently visited 14 Corps in southern California, all of which pledged their continued support. Comrade E. Nichols, Coquille, Ore., has sent Past National President Kate B. Sherwood a gavel made of the myrtle wood found in the Coos River Valley, Oregon, and which took the premium at the World's Fair; also, a volcanic shell, beautiful as an agate, found on Brandon Beach, where the town of Coquille is located. Department President Celia A. Kenyon, of Rhode Island, installed the officers of George A. Sons of Veterans during the Spring of 1888, and Helen M. Brigham, a Past President's badge has always been an active member. He was appointed Quartermaster-Sergeant soon after his muster-in, and held that office for four years, when he was elected First Lieutenant. After serving in that office one year, he was appointed First Sergeant, holding that office until chosen Captain. He attended the Encampment, held at Binghamton, as delegate, and was afterward appointed State Aid. His father, D. E. Curtis, Le Roy, N. Y., enlisted in the Fall of 1861 in the 104th N. Y., better known as the Wadsworth Guards, serving till the Spring of 1865, when he was discharged, Gregg Post, Bellefontaine, Pa., rejoice in the after having been in 19 battles and several skirmishes.

J. C. Buch, Fulton, writes: "The year 1894, just closed, has been one of the most prosperous years in the history of the Sons of Veterans in this locality. We are now about to start in the new year with a new set of officers, and it should be the aim of the officers elect of each Camp to eclipse all records of the former ocenpants in their respective stations. But the officers alone cannot do this. They need the united support of all members of the Order. Let each member strive to do his utmost in the year 1895. Increase your membership, encourage in unison with the Grand Army. Make it a point to visit any sick brother or comrade as soon as possible after the report reaches your ter, a large number witnessing the interesting anything, do all in your power to procure it for him. Remember that charity to the Union veterans is one of the strongest planks in the Sons of Veterans' platform. The Grand Army should also help in this work by encouraging their sons to join the Order. Try to impress upon their minds that we do not go to the Camp meeting just for an evening's amusement, as you would to a club. We go there to perpetuate the memory of the thousands of brave men who fell on the field of battle, or followed their respective commands against the traitors of the South; gave up their lives on the battlefield and left friends and relatives at home to mourn for them; children to grow up without a father; a mother who would never again see her son, the boy who had been the pride of her life; a wife who depended on her husbend for support. and all this and more they gave up for their country, which serves to teach one of the greatest lessons of loyalty ever taught. Then, again, 12.00...... if you are ever in a city at the time of a Division Encampment, you will see many times hundreds of Sons of Veterans who a few days before were strangers to each other mingling together as though they had known each other for years. That is friendship. Thus you have 40.00. the three grandest principles of our Order- | 50.00 Fraternity, Charity, and Loyalty. Let every son of a veteran not a member who reads this think over these three principles; think of all that those three simple words mean, and I am satisfied that you will conclude that the place for him is with a S. of V. button on the lapel of
